Dr. JV Patil, Director DSR, who recently visited USA for a short term training program (from October 28 to November 2, 2012) at Executive Education, Harvard Kennedy School, Harvard University, Cambridge, MA 02138 USA, presented a deputation seminar in the institute. The topic of the weeklong training was, "Leadership Decision Making: Optimizing Organizational Performance". Leaders in the various management positions across the world participated in the programme. The training was imparted in a highly interactive manner using the latest research, case study discussions, and real-time activities. The individualized feedback on judgment and decision making was the core of the training. The highly advanced computerized programme focused mostly on behavioral economics in relation to quick decision making. The training seemed helpful in providing a broad perspective of leadership decision making for optimizing organization performance. Dr. Patil thanked President ICAR Society, DG & DDG ICAR, and NAIP for deputing him to attend the training. He also thanked the DSR staff members for extending full cooperation in fulfilling this assignment
